

Summary of Successes

To sum up, survey results of the evaluation have shown that CEEPUS is very good designed, a programme with a high reputation and highly appreciated by its target groups.

In terms of developing and implementing common degrees CEEPUS has been successful and is considered by 2/3 of the network participants interviewed in the survey as helpful to reach the goals.

The main aspects mentioned as USP (unique selling proposition) of CEEPUS are:

a unique regional focus and country composition

Compared to other exchange programmes CEEPUS participants stated the geographical focus as USP and one of the many benefits of the programme. CEEPUS offers the possibility e. g. that non-EU countries which have not yet been Erasmus-eligible have had the opportunity to participate.

an innovative non-monetary funding system based on national resources in a variable geometry

The structure of CEEPUS scholarships is seen as a big advantage. Compared to other exchange programmes their number is reportedly higher and they are paid out in the local currency. CEEPUS mobility is also considered better in terms of availability and range. It's appreciated very much that the programme is offering teacher's mobility too.

a comparatively easy regulatory framework

Among the most frequently listed specific benefits offered by CEEPUS, the manageable administrative workload together with the simplicity of regulations and flexibility has been highlighted.

a comparatively easy application procedure fully facilitated by an advanced on-line system

It has been stated from all sides of the CEEPUS target groups, that the online-handling of all administrative work is a big advantage and little administrative effort is required.

a thematic openness for advanced networking in all university disciplines.

It's multilateral, thematically open design is also one of the aspects appreciated very much by CEEPUS participants.
